ALARMS EXCEED PHOENIX FIRES.

City Notable for Lowest Per Capita Losses.
Boolegger's Liquor may be Returned to Government.

Large Donations Made to Y.M.C.A. at Luncheon.
PHOENIX (AP), Dec. 19.—This city is notable as having the lowest per capita fire loss of any incorporated municipality in the United States for the fiscal year ending July 31, 1917. The total loss was only $11,444, from 135 alarms and 114 actual fires. The record is far better than that of previous years. In 1914 the fire loss in Phoenix was $23,636 and in 1915 $175,773. During the year there has been a number of large buildings, but the excellent fire equipment, lately fully motorized, has prevented any spread of the flames. The City Manager has recommended that the present system of the fire engine be replaced by a more modern one. The fire supply is considered ample.

Manual Arts Grid Machine Mangles Pomona's Hopes in Battle for High School Title

TOILERS ARE FAR TOO GOOD FOR OPPONENTS.

Berkey and Galloway Score Two Times Each for the Winners.

BY LEEFSON BOWLES. AFTER stalling around for fifteen minutes while a couple of punts were knocked around, the Manual Arts machine mangled the Pomona eleven winning the Southern California prep football championship by the lacy score of 27 to 0.

The four touchdowns rolled up by the Toilers just about tell the difference between the two teams as they played yesterday. The Toilers had a vicious offensive in which every man on the team played a part, while the Red team from the east had no play and a whole lot less interference.

HERMAN HURT. Things went along smoothly toward the start of the game, until Herman Hurt, Manual Arts' quarterback, stripped the gears in his cranium and found himself repeating the multiplication table instead of signals. While the anxious Manualites were trying to get his skull to working the diggerbrushes got close enough to miss two place kicks.

Speaking of kicks reminds us that it was a bad day for the kickers.

Amor Galloway's well-known toe flung three shots square in front of the goal while Brother Nesbitt's educated toe was equally faulty. Onlookers who kicked at having to pay 10 cents for a bag of ten peanuts or a shriveled up ice-cream cone fared no better.

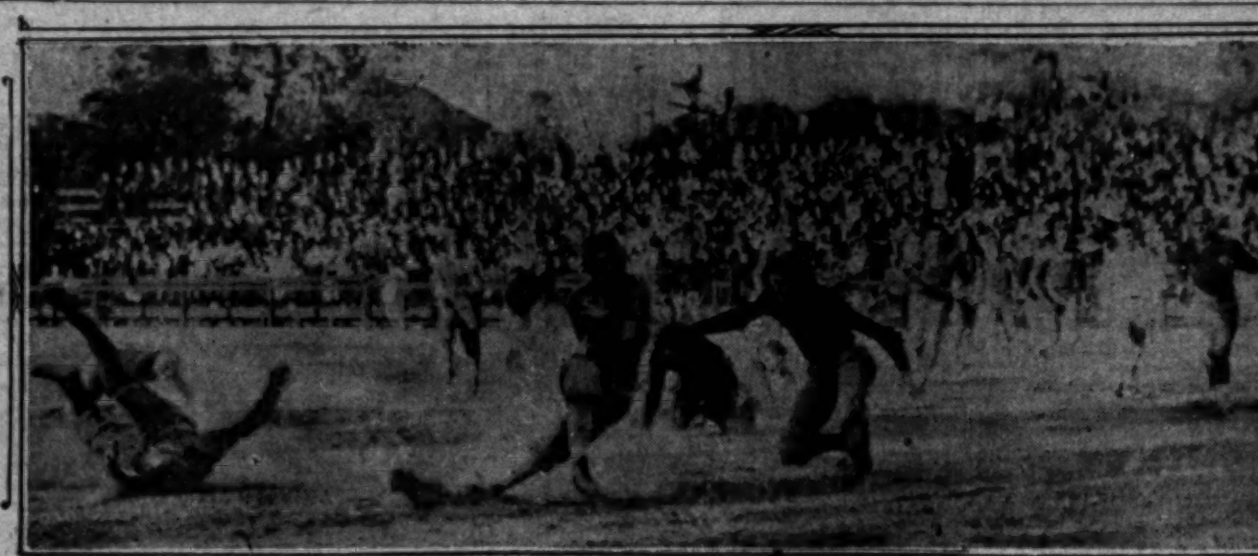

NEW QUARTER. Play saw-sawed back and forth in the center of the field until the beginning of the second quarter. By this time Herman's dome had been given up completely, and Galloway had moved himself into quarterback position, with Cole filling in at full-back and Bolly Smith and McMillan officiating as halves.

The third quarter found the Manual team in the lead, and the Pomona squad threatened with a bad case of preconcidence, and the Pomona team were quick to take advantage of it. A fumble gave them the ball well down in Manual territory and they took it to the Purple 10-yard line before they were stopped. Nesbitt made a nice run on McMillan's punt and missed an easy shot in front of the goal for Pomona's last chance to score.

BERKEY DOES IT. This stirred the Toilers into action again, and several snappy dashes carried the ball deep into Pomona territory again. This time an old friend Berkey was tried again, and he executed a high class end run of twelve yards, which put the ball across the line. Galloway hauled off, and once more failed to kick an easy one. Manual, 12; Pomona, 0.

The last two points came in a swift and rather unexpected manner. Pomona held Manual well in the Toiler territory, and McMillan punted. Palomares muddled the punt and it rolled over and over clear to the Pomona goal line, where Palomares was tackled for a safety just as he grabbed it. Manual, 21; Pomona, 0.

SMITH SHINES. Bolly Smith made a great run on Nesbitt's long punt immediately following the safety, carrying the ball fifty yards to the Pomona 13-yard mark. Here Capt. Galloway took the ball on one of his celebrated long-run runs and dodged and pushed his way across for the final points of the day. He missed the goal, just to be consistent. Manual, 27; Pomona, 0.

THE TOILERS' LINE, WITH GALLOWAY AT QUARTERBACK, MADE A NICE RUN ON NESBITT'S PUNT AND MISSED AN EASY SHOT IN FRONT OF THE GOAL FOR POMONA'S LAST CHANCE TO SCORE.

NEW YEAR'S DAY TEAMS COMING.

Both the Mare Island Marines and the Camp Lewis team from America Lake will arrive in Los Angeles Monday morning for their game at Pasadena on New Year's Day.

Both eleven will take up residence at the Maryland until the Hammond is opened for the season. Then the Camp Lewis huskies will pack up their glad rags and dash over to quarters in the latter hostelry.

Practice will be held at Tournament Park and on the Pasadena High School gridiron, the teams alternating in the use of this field. Each squad will consist of thirty men.

PASADENA EXPECTS SOME GOOD TEAMS.

BASKETBALL AND TRACK TEAMS WORKING OUT AT THE CROWN CITY.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE) PASADENA, Dec. 20.—With the close of the present prep gridiron season, the athletically inclined youths of Pasadena High School are now turning their attention to basketball and track, the next events on the athletic programme of the year.

Basketball is proving very popular at the Crown City institution this year, and under the experienced hand of Coach Main, the Red and White are expected to turn out one of the fastest quintettes in the south.

George Keyes, captain of the team, is now playing the game for his fourth year, while practically every member of the Pasadena squad is an experienced player.

Actual track work will not start until after the New Year, but already a number of enthusiastic individuals have donned their spikes and may be seen working out on the High School track every night.

Bob Shlademan, star quarterback of last year's letter men will report for duty again this season.

Charles Paddock, one of the greatest sprinters in this part of the country, will again run for the Red and White, as will "Thor" Bedall in the quarter and Saunders and McMillan in the distance.

Shlademan will look after the pole vault and the high jump, while Fouché, who played half on the local football team, will again be on hand for the weight events.

This nucleus of old men for a starter, an attempt will be made to build up a cinder path squad capable of giving any team in the north a run for first honors.

PIPAL ASKED TO QUIT BY AGGIES.

VARSITY "O" CLUB SAID TO BE ANXIOUS THAT HE BE PUT ON SHELF.

(BY DIRECT WIRE—REUTERS' DISPATCH.) PORTLAND (Or.) Dec. 21.—O. A. C. may lose Coach Joseph A. Pipal, formerly coach of Occidental, one of the worst athletes in the history of athletics at the Oregon institution has broken. The board of control, consisting of three faculty men and five students, the latter three men and two women, have thrown down the gauntlet to one of the men who helped put the Oregon Agricultural College on the athletic map.

The ultimatum reached the coach in the form of a letter signed by the board of control, stating the views of the Varsity "O" Club and comment of some members of the alumni regarding Coach Pipal's ability to uphold his ability as an athletic instructor, against what appears to be overwhelming odds among the students at Corvallis.

When asked to discuss the letter, Pipal at first was reluctant to talk, but said:

"I am willing to stand on my record at O.A.C. and elsewhere. I have not even discussed this with the president of the college yet. I am a regular member of the faculty with the rank of full professor. My services procured by the board of regents and would consider it extremely undignified to discuss any student rumors at this time.

"It would seem that the winners of the Oregon game were such a shock to some of the disgruntled ones that it put their system out of order. I have felt for some time that some of the individuals on the campus have been working to undermine me.

Pipal admitted having received the board of control's letter, but refused to divulge its contents. According to the highest authority, the letter was sent to Coach Pipal one week ago, and the gridiron mentor asked time to consider it.

The Varsity "O" Club, which is said to be the prime mover in making the board of control draft the letter to Pipal containing criticism of the athlete, is presided over by Meler, captain of the 1917 football team. Prof. Brodie, a member of the faculty, is acting chairman of the board of control.

Pipal came to O.A.C. from Occidental College in 1916. While at Occidental Pipal cleaned up all the southern institutions. His record of beating Oregon a year ago was thought to have placed him in an impregnable position at the Corvallis school.

Pipal has made a good reputation here, but has not made many warm friends among the students, both athletic and non-athletic, as it was hard to approach him. He is not "one of the boys," and holds himself too far aloof from the men who fight the battles on the gridiron.

CAMP LEWIS TEAM LEAVES FOR SOUTH.

TWENTY-SIX PLAYERS AND A FEW ROUTERS COMING IN THE PARTY.

(BY DIRECT WIRE—REUTERS' DISPATCH.) TACOMA (Wash.) Dec. 21.—Cheered by hundreds of Camp Lewis soldiers, the Ninety-first Division's football squad of twenty-six players, the coaches and a number of officers left at 4:15 this evening for Pasadena, where the National Army team will meet the Marines New Year's Day.

The team should arrive in Los Angeles Sunday night. The men plan on spending Christmas in Pasadena.

Shortly before the men left the camp this evening a big rally in their honor was held in the Y.M.C.A. auditorium. Mr. G. H. Irons, commanding at the camp, and several other officers addressed them. The rally had all the enthusiasm of a college affair. Hundreds of the soldiers accompanied the players to the train and cheered until it was out of sight.

The men realize that they are going up against a very strong team, but backed by the whole division they are determined to win. They are not making any predictions, but are promising the best they have. Former Oregon varsity football men, eleven in all, that battled on Kincaid Field for the lemon yellow in past years, will be pitted against each other New Year's Day at Pasadena, when the famous Mare Island Marine Eleven and Edward Barry, first Division team of Camp Lewis, Wash.

Capt. Beckett, along with Hollis Huntington and Brick Mitchell, stars on Berke's machine in 1916, are wearing the Marine colors along with Elmer Hall and Edward Barry of previous teams. Coach Berke is busy whipping the "sea soldiers" into shape for their coming battle. Oregon claims five regulars and one varsity substitute from last year on the Ninety-first Division team. They are: Bill Snyder, all-Northwest and Coast guard of 1916; Kelly Bartlett, Monte Monsteth and Ward McKinnon, along with Bill Holden, and Sam Cook of former years.

Students are backing the Marines to win and they have seen the team in action, and the fact that Coach Berke is coaching them, opposed to Coach Pipal, who is aiding the Camp Lewis men.

A list compiled by Bill Hayward, the veteran track and field coach, show that over 115 former athletes of the university are actively serving Uncle Sam. The soldiers who will attend the tournament, the Mare Island Marines and wife away the defeat administered in the Tacoma Stadium last fall, were here today and left for the south. They are: Lieut. Russell, Lieut. Kapple, Lieut. Gard, Sergt. Freese, Sergt. Hunter, Lieut. Christensen, Private McKay, Private Snyder, Sergt. Bartlett, Private Monsteth, Sergt. McKinnon, Private Sam Cook, Private Quill, Private (Acting Sergeant) Lane, Lieut. Lynch, Lieut. Turner, Private French, Corp. Komme, Sergt. Corporal Gossage, Lieut. Craig, Private Hollywood, Private Sharp, Corp. Edgar Kelmholz and Private Hastings Dees and Deas.

WILLIE HOPPE STILL WINNING.

Billiard Champion Willie Hoppe continued to delight the fans with his marvelous accuracy and unerring judgment with the cue at Wright's billiard parlors yesterday. In the afternoon Hoppe ran up a remarkable score at three cushions, going through 50 points in 46 innings with a high run of 7. Charlie Peterson managed to shoot 20 tallies before Hoppe ended the encounter.

No other than Hen Berry, the genial baseball magnate, graced the sidewalk row of spectators. Hoppe's presence yesterday afternoon, having exhausted his vocal capabilities at the recent Coast League meeting, registered approval of Hoppe's shots by pounding the floor with a massive cane, causing untold damage to the world's wrestling champion. In the 200-point afternoon play at 18.3 ballline Hoppe did not exceed previous marks made during the week, finishing in five innings with runs of 61, 21, 4, 26 and 24. Peterson knocked down 115 points in this match.

DONOHUE TO COACH TWO TIGER SQUADS.

Jim Donohue was definitely chosen yesterday as basketball and track coach for Occidental College during the coming spring. Manager Carl Brandstetter of the Tigers rang off to the telephone to confirm the rumor. Donohue was an all-around track star, second only to Fred Thomson and Jim Thorpe when each was at his best, and he was also a basket shooter of note. He will doubtless put out some good teams for the Tigers for this year.

EARL CADDOCK IN HIS UNIFORM NOW.

(BY A. P. MOUNT WIRE) CAMP DODGE (Iowa) Dec. 21.—Earl Caddock of Anita, Iowa, claimant to the world's wrestling championship, is now a full-fledged private in the National Army. He was sworn in late yesterday and he donned the uniform of a private to Fred Thomson and Jim Thorpe.

OFFICIALS NAMED FOR GRID BATTLE.

Officials for the big New Year's Day service football game at Pasadena were named yesterday. It might be mentioned that the referees occasioned little or no surprise. They are as follows: Referee, Klemholz; umpire, Irwile; field judge, Foley; head linesman, Wells.

THE CITY AND ENVIRONS.

At McKinley Home.

Christmas exercises at the McKinley Industrial Home for Boys at Gardena will be held at 2:30 p.m. tomorrow.

In Patriotic Hall.

Bartlett-Logan Post and Corps will give a special program in Patriotic Hall, No. 1816 South Figueroa street, this evening.

Closed Christmas Day.

The Municipal Markets will be open Monday, but not Christmas Day. Superintendent of Markets Britt made this announcement yesterday in order to assist housewives in their Christmas shopping.

For Soldiers and Sailors.

Under the auspices of the girls' gymnasium classes of Normal High Center, an entertainment for soldiers and sailors will be given at the McKinley Industrial Home for Boys at Gardena. Refreshments will be served and there will be dancing afterward. A pretty Christmas entertainment, including a playlet, "Santa's Visit to Earthland," was given at the center last evening.

For Belgian Relief.

The Los Angeles Belgian Relief Committee, which is the oldest organized working force for Belgian relief in this country, which has worked under the direction of Mrs. Wiloughby Rodman, will hold a sale of fancy work this afternoon at the Athletic Club flower shop, No. 425 West Seventh street. Tea will be served.

For Armenian Relief.

At the invitation of the Y.M.C.A. management, Rabbi Isaac Myers has been visiting Camp Kearny, and while there he has been giving patriotic addresses in several thousand of the men in service. Dr. Myers stated that he had a most cordial reception at the various meetings, and speaks in high praise of the excellent work being done by the Y.M.C.A. officers for the benefit of the men in camp.

For Christmas Relief.

At the Christmas exercises of the Church of the Open Door, Thursday evening, in the Bible Institute, $746 in cash was contributed for Armenian relief, and many gifts were brought for the poor. The title of the service by the children was "White Gifts for the King," and the program was heard by over 1200 persons. A handsomely-decorated tree occupied one side of the platform, a large decorated cross the other. In one year, this school has grown from about 250 to an enrollment of 1016 at the present time.

For Orphan Children.

Twenty-five members of the McKinley Home for Boys will be the guests of Mrs. Martha C. White, No. 553 Bonnie Bras street, tomorrow afternoon and evening for a Christmas party. The celebration will start tomorrow afternoon, when the boys will be taken to the De Luxe Theater at Orange and Alvarado streets. Following this they will be taken through the downtown streets to visit Santa Claus, and then to Mrs. White's home for a big Christmas dinner and a Christmas tree with presents for all.

On War Problems.

A course of lectures on war problems will be given in the auditorium of the Polytechnic High School beginning January 4 at 8 p.m. These lectures will be given by President Wheeler of the University of California and members of the faculty. On January 4 the address will be made by President Wheeler and Prof. A. G. Leachner. The lectures are free to the public, but admission will be by ticket obtainable at the university extension office and the principal clubs in the city. This is a part of the big work in education which the university is undertaking to promote in Southern California.

IMPRESSIVE RITES

FOR DR. FINLEY.

MASON'S CONDUCT SERVICES OVER THE REMAINS OF NOTED DOCTOR.

Impressive Masonic funeral services were held over the remains of Dr. Theodore G. Finley yesterday morning in Westlake Masonic Temple by the members of Westlake Masonic Lodge. Past Master W. H. Hammel was in charge of the ritualistic ceremony and he was assisted by Chas. S. Vance, Attorney at Law, and other officials of the lodge. The Rev. Smith, pastor of Immanuel Presbyterian Church, of which Dr. Finley was a member, presided at the funeral service. "In my opinion, Dr. Finley is not dead," said Rev. Smith. "He is just asleep. A man like Dr. Finley will not spend his time in glory playing a harp, but will devote at least part of his time looking down on this dear little family that is left behind. One night while at his home Dr. Finley showed me how large a part his family held in his heart. We read the Twenty-fourth Psalm, the gentleman's Psalm. We turn to Revelation and we learn that our friend has passed on while full of the vigor of life and while still a young man, but, friends, he is not dead. We are reminded today of his life and achievement and are blessed by the benediction of the nine years he gave us here. We, his friends, may farewell to his mortal remains, but he lives for us forever."

AGENTS HUNT TAX DODGERS.

Revenue Officials Here to Seek Evaders of Levy.

Incorrect Returns Made will Soon be Found.

Expect to Unearth Illicit Caches of Liquor.

Persons in the local internal revenue district who make inventories of stocks liable to tax under the provisions of the emergency tax law and who watch it, perhaps the figures furnished to Collector Carter are not correct.

A swarm of revenue agents who have been recently operating in the San Francisco district, and who gathered there from Chicago, New York and other eastern points, swooped down upon the city yesterday, and it will be their business to see if the proper returns have been made, and if not, to make them. They will be on the job but ten days, and meanwhile there is considerable time in many quarters.

Where honest and faithful reports have been submitted there need be no fear. Yesterday was an off day with the internal revenue wrecking crew, while there is to be no work in various places to see if any contraband liquor has been stored in the bowels of the earth. George Brown, who runs a saloon at No. 325 West First, was before Collector Carter in relation to the thirty-three cases of fine whisky dug up by a posse of officers headed by Charles C. White, out on the San Fernando road, and he denied that the goods belonged to him. Additional efforts will be made to fix the ownership of the liquor. Various bits of information have recently come to the attention of the wreckers and increased vigilance will be exercised in the hope that some of the pointers may blossom into a find. That a number of saloons have planted a part of their stocks in order to avoid paying taxes is certain, in the opinion of the officers.

MUST GET LICENSE

TO SEND FOOD AWAY.

William Dunkerly, special agent of the War Trade Board, at its branch office, at No. 615 International Bank Building, said yesterday that it was necessary under the recent war legislation for persons sending out food either by parcel post or express, during the holiday season, to get a license for doing so. If the goods dispatched were made up of articles that are on the conservation list of the government, this related most especially to dried fruits, canned meats, etc. The burden of the penalty is by the law placed on the shipper.

In the interest of the strict enforcement of the law, it is hoped that all interested will at once secure a license as required, that may be secured by applying to Mr. Dunkerly at the above address. There have been some violations reported, but the matter seems to be understood by the express companies, who are refusing shipments unless accompanied by a license or permit.

Cues and News.
KINEMA GETS FATTY

By Grace Kingsley

To provide the new Kinema Theater with something joyous to equalize the more serious dramatic screen plays Emil Kehrlein, Jr., secured Fatty Arbuckle's screaming comedy "Fatty at Coney Island" to show with "The Woman God Forgot" this week. The success of the laugh-getting adventures of Roscoe among the mazes of New York's famous summer resort was so pronounced that Mr. Kehrlein announces the comedy, "A Country Hero," next week.

Mary Pickford in "The Little Princess" is the other feature of the bill, which assures Kinema patrons of a continued high standard programme.

Supported by the same cast of other comedy hits—Al St. John, Buster Keaton and Alice Lake, Mr. Arbuckle is now producing in the studio of "Mad Dog Gulch" near the beach at Long Beach a new comedy of the early frontier days, "Out West." This means that Bill Hart and Doug Fairbanks must get their trigger fingers working before challenge their reputations as two-wound masters.

Off Again, on Again.

Eva Tanguay, who by the way is now playing Orpheum time, has been divorced from her husband.
But just because his name was Ford, that's no reason to suppose that the cyclonic one's matrimonial enture was a flivver. On the contrary, they do say it was some race, twelve-cylinder and no brakes on it.

said she heard what their fate was,
but at that she grieved in their grave and spunk. If they'd left women to fight over here, Nan says, she'd be in it from the start, even though she is under five feet and weighs less than 100.

Anita King's Kind Heart.

Behaving just like a well person, even more so, Anita King, Mutual-Balboa star, who is in the hospital recovering an operation, nevertheless yesterday sewed seventy-bags with candy, to be shipped to the

Mary MacLaren Recovers.
Mary MacLaren, 17-year-old film star, who was seriously injured in an automobile collision on August 27, is now completely recovered, and is hard at work on a new picture, at the head of her own company, next week.

Airtrunks Disappears.
Douglas Fairbanks has disappeared. When he was seen, he was en route for Texas with Alvin Karpis and a fairly well-developed scenario. The supposition is that the next time Fairbanks vehicles will be a straight-up chase of the land of cactus. There remain, from the wreckage of the and the picture will be shown at the Art Roxy, who has been assisting Allan Dwan in the making of recent Fairbanks productions. Fairbanks will return to the stage early next week.

He Wasn't Scared.
He drove an automobile down a road track ahead of a passenger train, then stopped the machine, alighting the locomotive to crash into it.

Not knowing at all what would happen when the collision occurred, Robert Rawlinson enacted this scene in his latest photoplay, "The Love of a Fool," feeling that he should have a sensation when it is shown on the screen; certainly it thrilled

When that stunt was filmed. The scene was staged on the main line of the Southern Pacific, at its north end, thirty miles from Los Angeles, and a locomotive of the coast type of the division and a complete train of Pullmans and day

ALL HAIL, SACRAMENTO.
 The baseball fans of the capital city are to have a team in the Pacific Coast League. The team will again be found on the map of California. It has been in a sort of eclipse since the advent of the Hiram Johnson administration.

LOYAL CANADA.
 Australia is voting on whether or not conscription is to be put into effect in that country. It is to be hoped the voters will prove as loyal and true as their Canadian brethren. Canada is all right in wind, limb and spirit, and the United States is proud to have her for a next-door neighbor.

SHE'S JUST AS WELCOME.
 And now it turns out that the Miss Romanoff from Europe, who has just arrived in San Francisco, is not the daughter of the ex-Czar, but a Slav opera singer.
 However, she's just as welcome as the daughter of any king or queen and will be treated just as royally by the best society in this democratic country.

EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS.
 Chicago theatergoers are congratulating Eva Ganguy, who has obtained a divorce from her husband on the charges of non-support and desertion and because "he sometimes got drunk and crabbled the act."
 As to desertion and non-support, that's Eva's business; but when it comes to anybody spilling the act of a star comedienne, that's where the public has a perfect right to butt in.

FRIGHTENED.
 The editor of the Socialist publication, Appeal to Reason, or, as it was styled by non-Socialist papers, the "Appeal to Treason," has changed its name to the New Appeal and extensively thrown his pacifism into the discard and will henceforth espouse the war. The Christian Science Monitor sarcastically remarks that, while the conversion of the editor may not perceptibly change the course of events, he is likely,
 as a result of it, to have less trouble with the postoffice.

NO TIME TO LIE DOWN.
 Drafts on the younger classes of reserve and withdrawals from Russia have enabled the Kaiser to not only make up the great losses recently sustained in battles with the Allies, but to replace the men sent to aid the Austrians in their invasion of Italy. Germany now faces the Allies in France with an army almost equal to the largest army she has ever mustered, although there is no question that the Allies' troops are superior in numbers and in fitness. The Allies will win, but evidently it is not yet time to talk peace.

SPEEDING AND DEATH.
 A few nights ago another speeder killed himself, injured every member of his party, and smashed the machine of another motorist. The machine of another motorist was crushed. The detectives report that a little booze and fifty miles an hour were the cause. Los Angeles is almost literally overrun with automobiles; and it appears that a great many automobile owners become lunatics as soon as they get their hands to the wheel, especially at night and particularly if they have had a drink or two. Only the severest of punitive measures will keep the speed maniacs within bounds.
 Perhaps nothing could prove more effective than to confiscate the cars of the senseless drivers.

PEACE CAMOUFLAGE.
 Now that America is about ready to empty its sixteen great military camps and place the new army on the soil of France and Flanders, a new crop of peace rumors and peace proposals is appearing. True enough, Germany wants peace. But her sympathizers, her propagandists and hirelings want to depress and discourage the boys who have been training for months by indicating that peace may come before they get a chance to do their bit—and, also, if possible, cause the military authorities to delay sending the army, as they would do if peace seemed impending. On with the war! The Kaiser cannot have peace merely for the asking, and when it comes on terms acceptable to the Allies nobody will be regretful—except the junkers.

MAKE THE CHILDREN GLAD!
 Now, look here, Lady Bonifant, and you, too, Mr. Charity! It's all right for you to give potatoes, beans and bread to needy families, but don't forget to give the children in those households a few little things that they don't actually need, but that all children want. Your own girls and boys will get all sorts of wonderful toys and dolls. You intend to see to that, even if it means an extra meatless month for you. Remember that the children of the poorest are also capable of appreciating these bright baubles. That ragged little girl you passed this morning—who would she think of the gift of a doll that cost as much as a dollar? Why, she would keep it until she is grown, and the memory of the giver and the gladness that the gift would bring would keep her sweet and good.
 There are other ways to save human souls besides donating to foreign missions.

THE DAWN OF WORLD DEMOCRACY.

I saw the Powers of Darkness put to flight;
 I saw the Morning break.
 We have all come to know and to understand why the world fell from the heights of peace into the abyss of war in the year of our Lord 1914.

At the beginning we did not know. And for a long time afterward we did not know.
 But we know now.

In a vague way we Americans regarded the new blazing holocaust as a struggle mainly between Germany and Great Britain for the upper hand.

"One or the other of them, sooner or later, must be boss over there," we said.
 "It is their fight and not ours. Let us keep out of it."

We were, I remember, poised as disinterested onlookers and outsiders, and divided in our sympathies. Germany was not without friends among us. The traditional distrust of England dropped out. We might as well be frank about the way we stood. We are in it now ourselves—it is to the hilt—and an honest confession will be good for our souls.

"We are sorry for France," we said.
 "France is an old friend. But we can't help it if she is due for another drubbing from Prussia."

Here and there a voice cried in the wilderness. Yet we paid no heed. We were far away. We felt that we were safe. And again we were not our fathers. They had been staring at one another for a long time over there. When one side fell down, beaten by the other, they would get back to business and to raising crops again.

Then the Lusitania was sunk, and we began "to see red." We flew into a passion. And, to make it worse, we saw the Kaiser laughing and jeering at us.

We didn't know a thing more about the black business than we did before.
 But we were mad.

We reached back in our hip pockets for our guns.

Looking behind us in this grave and fete-ful hour, it is astounding that we could have been so blind. The student of history in generations to come will think it unbelievable.

Still we may be excused, at that. France was blind. England was blind. Else they had been prepared.

But they were not prepared. When the Kaiser struck, France was laughing in her sunny fields. Paris was at play. England was sitting snug at home. It was in sudden panic that she ran out to the white cliffs of Dover to signal her bulwarks of the sea, when the Kaiser struck.

Prussianism began before the Kaiser ascended his accursed throne. Wilhelm II is the heir of it, and its bloody flower. He will stand as the greatest horror in all history. The human butchers who preceded him, back into the dimmest legends of history, take upon their spirits now a kind of respectability.

And this is because the war that was hurled upon the world at his word is the most brutal, the most cowardly and the most sinister war recorded on the blood-stained pages of all history.

The Kaiser is Prussianism, and Prussianism has made slaves of free men. It has slain, wantonly, helpless and innocent children; it violated pure women, mothers, sisters and daughters; it has resorted to passion, bribery and assassination. It broke treaties. It is guilty of other crimes that cannot be set down in print. It is a liar, a thief and a murderer.

Yet how could we have known? How could we have believed it possible that a monster so hideous, so appalling and horrible as Prussianism has proved itself to be could exist in a world over which the banner of Christ had gained almost complete dominion?

Perhaps, after all, our blindness was excusable, and God has forgiven us for it.

Now that we know, we realize also, how great is the pity that we waited so long to render the help they so sorely needed—our brothers, the free peoples, who leaped to the citadel of democracy to defend it against the Hun.

It is mortal strange that our ears were deafened all this time to the voices crying in the wilderness.

But that is all past and gone. We have heard both the voices and God's clear call. Our time has come.

The drumbeat to arms sounds between the tumbling seas. The flag of glory is unfurled. Our youth, which is the flower of the world, is rushing to the fray.

Look up, O glorious France, beautiful sister, so long beloved! Stand fast, Britain! Fight on, Italia! Free peoples of the earth—Belgium, Serbia and all—be of good cheer!

It is the break of day. It is the spreading dawn.

This is not Armageddon, as the timid and the fearful have supposed.

Nor, when the war is ended, shall we enter upon the thousand years of the scriptural millennium when Satan shall be chained and Christ shall reign over all the earth.

Not yet. The world is still young. God has plainly mapped out a long road that the human race has still to travel. So far we have learned but little, after all.

True, we can navigate the underseas and travel upon the upper winds. We can speak across the continents and the seas. But these are merely childish things compared to what man, in a material way, shall yet do.
 And even though we had come to the end of inventive human genius, the world were yet young.

There is still the growth of the human soul to be projected. When the age of iron is past and done, then will the age of the soul really begin. Then will song and music, the gladness and the grace of beauty, obsess men's hearts. God will be happy then, and He will want His happiness to last.

It is another epoch than Armageddon upon which we enter now—an epoch not written into the Book of Kings, but with its seed far planted back in that time when the sons of Abraham shut out the common pastures from their neighbor's flocks.

Our epoch is the dawn of world democracy.

Like the dawn of every other epoch in human history, this must be ushered in with blood.

Prussianism alone bars the path. Where fore, Prussianism must and will be crushed.

 It cannot prevail against the world.

Even now it totters to its fall. With all its boasted efficiency, with all its uses of insidious poison in the minds even of its own people, with all the fantastic horror of its "kultur," France and England have outdone the Kaiser and all his Von Hindenburgs in the real genius of war.

The free peoples are more capable in battle at the end of three years than Prussianism is at the end of forty years of ceaseless, sinister, merciless effort and preparation.

The world, as was said, is still young,
 and it will still be young when Prussianism is crushed and democracy's spreading dawn has touched the farthest corners of the earth and shines effulgently upon the seven seas.

Then our task shall be to make it sure that the dawn shall become the full day, and that the day shall never end.

This cannot be done with guns, nor by new treaties, nor by tribunals at The Hague or any other place.

So long as man shall spend his genius on guns there will be wars. Treaties must continue to be "scraps of paper" so long as there be anywhere in the world the lack of honor. Tribunals are binding only upon the well-disposed.

The boon we must strive to obtain when this war is done is the boon of the international mind—to make all civilized peoples and races think alike.

Nations will continue to exist, and there will always be races and racial distinctions. But the ancient barriers of useless and unfundamental hatreds and prejudices must be broken down. The free peoples who shall win this war for democracy must remain united in heart and in spirit, and they must gather new peoples within the fold. Yes, even Germans must be gathered into that fold. They will come when the brutal clutch of Prussianism is freed from their throats.

Then shall men be as brothers across the borders of all lands. Treaties will be kept, because hatred and suspicion of one people by another will be dead. Plo-shares and not guns shall engage the genus of man.

Then shall come back to the world,
 and gladness, too.

This struggle to make the world safe for democracy has come at a time when America has made democracy safe for herself.
 Wherefore, it is with consistency that we depart from our traditional moorings as a nation, and that we have decided to disregard even the admonition of the great Father of the republic.

If Gen. Washington were living now he would undoubtedly take the same stand that President Wilson has taken. The people of the thirteen original colonies would, without question, unhesitatingly take the same stand.

Indeed, it is a matter of fact that we are not in disregard of the admonition of Washington to keep free of foreign alliances and entanglements. We seek not to interfere with the politics of Europe, much less to dictate to any nation, and Germany, least of all, what its politics shall be.

We demand, simply, that the world be made safe for democracy.

Prussia or Russia or Turkey or any other nation may maintain or set up anew whatever form of government they may choose. They may submit to autocracy in its most hideous forms if they so desire.

But they must stay within their own limits. They must not cross their borders to make war in any form, on democracies or on the world.

For, henceforth, the democracies of the world shall be as one democracy. The free peoples love the sun and they shall stand in its warmth.

America, France, Great Britain, Italy, Canada, Australia, the Latin republics of South America—these, at least, have passed the hour and the weakness of doubt. So long as the Lord God of the Ages shall sit in his golden chair, the peoples of these lands shall be free, and no war lord on earth, no Kaiser, no autocrat shall set his scepter over them.

The Rhine shall be the Rubicon of freedom.

The time has come for America to step out of her provincial democracy into the wider democracy of the world.

Are we fit to take the step? After a century and a half of democracy, is America weak or strong?

We send forth a new race to help the tired men. Yes, we send them the miracle of their own youth renewed. It is a race with the blood of all other races in its veins.

Summoned forth from shop and mill and mine, from teeming cities and the green lands of the country, from plain and prairie, vale and mountain, from tawny deserts and the shores of the great seas, America be-holds in review the broad she has sucked at her breast.

Side by side they stand, rich man's son and poor man's son alike. Lithe and strong and clean, here is an army no earthly power can vanquish.

We say it not in boastfulness, although it has been said that we are a boastful race. And God forbid that we should claim, now or hereafter, that we alone made the world safe for democracy. We know what France and England have done; what Belgium and Italy have done. We know what they still can do. Immortal glory is upon them. They are the bravest of the brave.

We go to help. We go to wage the battle with them. We ask the privilege to share their sufferings, to fight with them, to pay our equal toll to death and to twice our share when the world stands glorified in the splendor of the new dawn.

But shall we not be permitted to take joy of our own—to exult in the beauty, the strength and the glory of our sons? This is an army for Achilles, and not for Attila.
 Nay, not even Greece, in her youth, knew such men.

The brutal code of Von Hindenburg, the fiendish philosophy of Nietzsche, shall fall and crumble now. No power that was built under the dull mastery of Prussianism can withstand the hands of these clean, strong men, bred beneath the wide skies of our America.

They go with serious eyes, yet with

DOINGS IN THIS TOWN. BY GALE

ARE YOU A MEMBER OF THE RED CROSS? NOPE!

SUFFICIENCY.

BY EUGENE BROWN.

My Dear Mr. Mayor: Isn't it about time that I was made a commissioner? Every able-bodied citizen has been, or is expected to be, a commissioner of some kind and, according to the law of averages, it is now my turn.

I think I should like to be a sufficiency commissioner. Somebody was telling me the other day that one Benjie Jerk—or something like that—had been blasted loose from a job as commissioner. Whether he was a deficiency, sufficiency or inefficiency commissioner makes no difference to me. I am certain that I could improve on the service in his stead. I can be just as deficient, inefficient or insufficient as the next man. Likewise I can go to the nearest typewriter and write long pieces about it.

Being a sufficiency commissioner would suit me mighty fine. I should say that would be plenty.

I would be both proficient and efficient, and if necessary could be deficient. What more could be asked?

I suppose that as sufficiency commissioner it would be part of my business to see that people got what was coming to them. That is some task. I would start out with a fairly intelligent conception of what it ought to be and gradually work up. Did you ever pass in the midst of your work to think what it would mean if all folks had what was coming to them? As a mental exercise it beats guessing on the weight of a melon or the outlook for rain.

But it is something you want for efficiency's sake I would still be available. Part of the work of an efficiency commissioner would be to tell people where to go. I think that would be a lovely job. I would not need to have my voice cultivated one bit. I already have a place in mind where some folks can go to; so you see that I am no unskilled or untrained person.

The efficiency commissioner is the one who knows it all and is especially trained in all the details of drawing the salary of his office. He should be able to find his way around and pick out pay day on the calendar merely by the sense of touch.

It seems to me that in order to make the commissioner easily recognizable and therefore available he should wear an appropriate but inconspicuous uniform. I would suggest a nickel-plated helmet, a scarlet Prince Albert, white spats and a bass drum or he might rig a bell at crossing the same as a switch engine. In that way people would know the commissioner when they saw him and pay such honor as the office warranted. That is a job in which you do not want a modest, shrinking violet.

In this I am not claiming exemption from modesty, but I am suggesting that your efficiency commissioner should be able to cut out the overhead with a safety razor, but should also be able to run up a column without using a pair of clippers. He is an enemy to waste and should take the words thrown away at the City Hall and furnish every voter with a pocket dictionary. He should also be able to extract the hot air from the ordinary low-grade politician and use it for running windmills to irrigate the Imperial Valley. Did you ever stop to think that if the same time as is now taken up in spending money were devoted to saving it the city would now have over $220 in the bank? If all the city employees got that kind of cut the same time and place there would be enough hair to stuff 115 mattresses for suffering soldiers in French hospitals. If all the vacant lots within the city limits were used for the construction of apartment houses there would be homes for seventeen million people.

It is this terrible waste everywhere that your efficiency commissioner should seek to conserve. In this line I harbor a raft of bright thoughts. I think possibly I might develop into the most efficient efficiency commissioner you could find. Also I am more proficient in insufficiency than almost anyone you can drag to the light.

If it is a deficient commissioner you want I might say that when I was at school I was at the head of the class in deficiency for practically all the time.

So long as it is Jesse's job I don't care much what it is.

Sufficiency!

COME DOWNSTAIRS.

Why are you wasting a lot of time contemplating what you would do if someone should leave you some money? Instead of using your brain in an effort to make the money by your own exertion?

Spending several hours a day in a castle building, with air for foundation, may afford you great pleasure, but you are no longer a child.

Time you came to earth and realized you are an adult.

It may be a great sport to imagine what you would do if some wealthy person should become interested in you and ask you what you most desired in life.

In fact, you have gone so far as to picture yourself performing a wonderful act of bravery, with subsequent reward, or you may be seeking opportunities to do a favor to some rich man to create this desired interest.

You have even framed up what you will reply when the interest becomes concrete.

You will be modest in your requests.

This is all bosh and silly moonshine.

You are no better than a 6-year-old.

You will never amount to a pinch of snuff while you harbor such ideas. Shake yourself out once more and get some sense.—[Minnesota Tribune.]
